

DOHERTY'S DEFENCE OPENS

NOTION TO DISMISS THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM DENIED.

Mrs. Thurot Reports Her Testimony That for 63 Days She, as Keeper of Her House, Could Secure the Release of Her Son, William, from the Police Station of the Arrested Inmate.

Promises of sensational developments by counsel and promises of good weather by Farmer Dunn attracted an audience of some size to the police trials at headquarters yesterday. It was a very much disappointed audience if it expected anything but the ordinary. Before the taking of testimony was resumed, Mr. Grant, of counsel for the defence, said:

"I desire, in justice to myself, to call the attention of the Commissioners to a publication since Friday, in which I am represented as making offensive references to Mr. Wellman's remarks."

Mr. Wellman arose and said he objected to anything more being said about the matter. Lawyer Grant continued his explanation even after the Commissioners stated that they did not care to hear anything further on the subject. Mr. Wellman jumped up and said:

"I shall personally apply to the General Term for the disbarment of this gentleman unless the Commissioners order him to desist, and he does desist from making any further reference to this matter. The Commissioners can apply to the court, and have the gentleman committed for contempt if he disobeys them."

Mr. Martin again directed Mr. Grant to desist, and said to Lawyer Fromme he had better proceed with Mrs. Thurot's cross-examination. Mr. Grant continued his remarks in spite of all, and said he never made the remarks attributed to him concerning Mr. Wellman's marriage.

Mrs. Thurot, the chief witness against Capt. Doherty and his associates, Hock and Mehan, was again brought forward to be cross-examined by the counsel for the defence. She was in her usual good humor, and seemed to enjoy the ineptness of the defence. She initiated the Irish brogue of Capt. Doherty to the great satisfaction and enjoyment of the officers.

Mr. Fromme asked: "Did you ever say that you knew a woman in West Twenty-fourth street who gave $500 to the Captain to be permitted to run her business?"

"I will not say," said Mrs. Thurot; "that matter comes up before the Lexow Committee in September."

When counsel insisted on an answer, she said that she did know such a woman. She added further that she had seen Dr. Parkhurst, and had promised to him that she would tell anything she knew of interest for the prosecution of police officers. So she had told of this. Perhaps the most suggestive bit of Mrs. Thurot's evidence is in a separate and distinct statement given after the Lexow Committee in September.

"I had it in for Capt. Martens," said the witness.

Q.—When were you first arrested? A.—In October, 1893.

Q.—Were there people in your house arrested? A.—Yes, often.

Q.—Were they arrested by Capt. Doherty's men? A.—Yes.

The witness added that she knew Police Justice Koenig. When an attempt was made to inquire into her acquaintance with Justice Koenig, she said that she knew that the Justice was not on trial. Mrs. Thurot, according to her evidence, paid $2 a week to the patrolman on the beat in front of her house, and gave regular stipends to Wardman Mehan and Hock. She reiterated her testimony that she gave the money to the Justice.

Q.—Did you pay the money in the Sergeant's presence? A.—No.

Q.—How many times? A.—I can recollect ten times.

Mrs. Thurot then testified that the girl relative would come right back to her house and that she would not be arrested. She said that she had told the girls that Capt. Doherty had suggested to her that the place should be transferred to a new place, and that she had agreed to do so.

Q.—Did you pay the money in the Sergeant's presence? A.—No.

Q.—How many times? A.—I can recollect ten times.

Mrs. Thurot then testified that the girl relative would come right back to her house and that she would not be arrested. She said that she had told the girls that Capt. Doherty had suggested to her that the place should be transferred to a new place, and that she had agreed to do so.

Q.—Did you pay the money in the Sergeant's presence? A.—No.

Q.—How many times? A.—I can recollect ten times.

Mrs. Thurot then testified that the girl relative would come right back to her house and that she would not be arrested. She said that she had told the girls that Capt. Doherty had suggested to her that the place should be transferred to a new place, and that she had agreed to do so.

Q.—Did you pay the money in the Sergeant's presence? A.—No.

Q.—How many times? A.—I can recollect ten times.

Mrs. Thurot then testified that the girl relative would come right back to her house and that she would not be arrested. She said that she had told the girls that Capt. Doherty had suggested to her that the place should be transferred to a new place, and that she had agreed to do so.

Q.—Did you pay the money in the Sergeant's presence? A.—No.

Q.—How many times? A.—I can recollect ten times.

Mrs. Thurot then testified that the girl relative would come right back to her house and that she would not be arrested. She said that she had told the girls that Capt. Doherty had suggested to her that the place should be transferred to a new place, and that she had agreed to do so.

TRY TO DOWN MILHOLLAND

LOCAL STATE COMMITTEE MEANS FIGHT TO-MORROW.

Being Secretary of the State Committee and Not a Member of the Local Committee, William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

TRY TO DOWN MILHOLLAND

LOCAL STATE COMMITTEE MEANS FIGHT TO-MORROW.

Being Secretary of the State Committee and Not a Member of the Local Committee, William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

William Brookfield, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and President of the reorganized Republican Hils-Patterson County Committee, took a special train yesterday to Albany to meet the State Committee to-morrow.

The Thirty Will Not Hear of Any Recognition of Milholland's Faction.

IS DEMOCRATS DISMISSED

AND TWENTY-FIVE REPUBLICANS APPOINTED.

The Reform Republicans in the Jersey City Board of Works Agents have been dismissed. The Reform Republican Board of Works of Jersey City set the political gullotine in operation again yesterday and chopped off the heads of fifteen Democratic officials and employees. The Board appointed twenty-five Republicans to fill the fifteen vacancies. Commissioners Cane and Kellers, the Democratic minority, made a vigorous protest against removing competent officials for political reasons, but the protest was of no avail.

Long before the meeting the members of the Board were crowded with hungry Republicans. President McArthur and Commissioners Hooker and Harding, the reformers appointed by Mayor Wanser, had held a conference in the Union League Club house with other Republican leaders and fixed up the slate, so that there was no room for the Democrats when the meeting opened up to put the gullotine in operation. Among the eighteen selected for the knife were Arthur J. O'Brien and Lewis Stinson, clerks; Peter H. Madden, tapper; Peter A. Kern and Richard McDonald, assistant tappers; John T. O'Brien, general clerk; John Wilson, roofer, and Arthur Morris, laborer on meters. The others were laborers employed in laying pipes and working at the Bellevue water works.

The Board moved that the dismissed Democrats, if they must be made, be made by individual resolution. The motion was promptly voted down, and the Board proceeded to pass resolutions for nearly an hour. Commissioner Cane offered a resolution to postpone indefinitely, but his obstructive tactics were defeated every time by a vote of 15 to 3.

"I don't think this omnibus method of dismissing employees is either just or intelligent," said Commissioner Cane. "Does the gentleman mean to state," asked President McArthur, "that he was not aware of the fact that the Board was to be dismissed?"

"I have a right to expect," retorted the Commissioner, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

"I don't suppose," said Commissioner Kellers, "that the Board will be advanced for the removal of employees."

MADE A SCENE IN CHURCH.

MRS. WILLIAMS'S SILENT DENUNCIATION OF A FOL.

During the sermon she marched to the front of the church and made a scene. Mrs. Williams, who had been in the church for some time, suddenly arose and made a scene. She was dressed in a black gown and a black veil. She walked toward the front of the church, and then she turned back and looked at the congregation. She was looking at the congregation with a look of defiance. She was looking at the congregation with a look of defiance. She was looking at the congregation with a look of defiance.

There she knelt down and buried her face in her hands. After remaining in that position for a few moments, she arose and in a tragic manner turned toward the congregation, extending her arm and pointing her outstretched finger at Dr. O'Reilly, who occupied a front pew.

Father Mehan ceased preaching and the congregation was thrown into confusion. For fully a minute the staid and then she walked back to her pew, casting fierce glances at Dr. O'Reilly as she passed him. A few moments later, before the congregation had fully recovered its startled senses, the woman again walked to the altar rail and after kneeling for a moment she abruptly left the church, frowning on the Doctor as she stalked by his pew.

Dr. O'Reilly was manifestly nervous during this peculiar incident, as he had recognized the woman as Mrs. George Williams, who had threatened to take his life. After she left the church, thinking that she might have gone for a weapon, Dr. O'Reilly retired to the vestry, where he remained for some time. Then he had a consultation with Father Mehan, and the latter decided that it was decided to cause the woman's arrest. A warrant was procured from Justice Van Wyck, and Dr. O'Reilly said to-night that the arrest would be made before morning if it took a dozen constables to do it.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

Gen. Horatio C. King, in opposing the motion, was signifying a light and a bell. He was a friend and was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services. Although his business was poor he was not receiving any pay for his services.

WAS THOMPSON'S CHURCH ESCORT.

Mrs. Thompson's Church Escort.

For a long period Auctioneer George W. Lewis, a well-known Grand Army man in Brooklyn, has been involved in trouble with his wife, Charlotte Lewis, and